

AMA assembles Ebola resources for physicians and public

OCT 15, 2014

Staff News Writer

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) on Sept. 30 confirmed the first U.S. case of Ebola, and developments associated with the virus continue to unfold. Prepare your practice and your patients with resources developed by Ebola experts and assembled by the AMA in one convenient location.

Visit the AMA's online Ebola Resource Center for information from the CDC and other public health groups. Resources cover:

- Understanding the virus
- Preparing your hospital or practice
- Screening and diagnosing Ebola
- Treating patients with the virus

The resource center will be updated regularly to give you, your practice staff and your patients the most up-to-date information you need. Save ama-assn.org/go/ebola to your favorites for an easy reference.
